TAFT'S ELECTION CONCEDED

Cincinnati Inquirer Says He Will Win.

Result of Careful Poled Gives Him Votes to Spare With Republican House.

The Cincinnati Inquirer, the New York Herald and Chicago Record-Herald have made a careful poll of the pivotal states for the coming Presidential election which shows that the vote is swinging toward Taft with an irresistible force, and that he will not only have a large vote in the electoral college, but a Republican House to support him as well. We take the following from last Sunday's Cincinnati Inquirer, which will be of great interest to our readers:

"As this, the first forecast number of the New York Herald and Cincinnati Enquirer, goes to press there appears to be in progress an expansion of the Republican vote. From all surface indications this has been in progress for several weeks. At first it was almost impossible to detect it. The situation was much befuddled in nearly every state in the Middle West and in Ohio and New York, but there have been apparently steady and rapid gains by the Republican candidates, and the chances now seem to favor the election of Taft and Sherman.

Without making any positive prediction nor basing the conclusions of the reports of correspondents connected with these two great Western papers with which they have collaborated, the Herald and Enquirer, show that William H. Taft is reasonably sure of 250 votes in the Electoral College, 33 more than he needs for election.

The reports of the trusted correspondents on which this estimate is based, have been carefully checked by other reports from independent sources.

William J. Bryan is quite certain to receive 156 Electoral votes, 21 votes are doubtful with a Democratic tendency, while 26 are doubtful and more than likely to go to the Republicans. If Mr. Bryan should succeed in carrying all the doubtful states he would have 203 Electoral votes—77 less than his Republican competitor.

The canvass also shows that the Republicans will probably carry the House of Representatives. The indicated strength of the respective parties is: Republican, 219; Democratic, 122. There are 22 doubtful districts with Republican tendencies and 20 with Democratic tendencies.

New York is one of the states that is chucked for Taft. His plurality will probably be quite large.

The contest for Governor of New York is apparently exceedingly close, with the tide setting in Governor Hughes' direction.

Two weeks ago the Herald's and Enquirer's preliminary canvass showed Mr. Chandler in the lead. The Herald and Enquirer pointed out, however, that the opposition to Governor Hughes had reached its greatest development in the early part of the campaign and the Republicans built great hopes on his proposed withdrawal from the race. It being admitted that Mr. Hughes was one of the greatest campaigners of his generation.

It is clear that in the latter personal encounters between the two candidates during the last two weeks the advantage has been with the Governor. Furthermore reports show that since the Herald's preliminary canvass was made Mr. Hughes's friends have been busy among the elements where opposition to the Governor was most strongly indicated. The tens of the Germans and the smaller Jewish orders as to the Governor's attitude in blue law legislation have been somewhat allayed. The race track issue had lost much of its importance, even before Mr. Chandler defined his position on the Hart-Agnew law.

Hartford Bowlers Defeat Owensboro

A picked team from the Owensboro Bowlers League came up to Hartford last Saturday evening and engaged the Hartford boys on the Masonic and N. of P. alleys. Sometime last spring the Hartford boys suffered a defeat at the hands of Owensboro boys, at the E. & H. alleys in that city, and they had had a standing challenge for a contest here. The Owensboro team is composed of a splendid set of young men, and they are all crack bowlers but being off their legs and confronted by a large audience of inebriated partisans for Hartford, who roared for the home team, probably disconcerted the visitors to some extent. The game resulted in a victory of 46 in favor of Hartford. It is probable the Hartford boys will visit Owensboro sometime in the near future, when the contest will be continued.

Following is a line up of teams and scores by games.

FLAG RAISING AT CENTERTOWN.

Great Speech and Much Enthusiasm--Enjoyed by Large Audience.

On last Saturday the Republicans of Centertown had a great rally and flag raising. The day was ideal and Republicans came from all sections of Centertown and adjoining precincts, to the number of 800. Many of the citizens of Centertown went down to assist the Centertown boys in their rally. A beautiful flag 12-1/2 x 45 feet was sent to the breeze from a pole 125 feet high surmounted by the Republican emblem, the "log cabin." Hon. T. B. McGregor, Assistant Attorney General for Kentucky, delivered the oration upon invitation of Taft club of Centertown. Mr. McGregor spoke for one hour and a half in the open air and held his crowd spell bound by his wit, eloquent and convincing logic. His speech was entirely devoid of anything offensive or abusive to those who might differ with him upon the questions of the day. He is one of the ablest speakers who ever came to Ohio county in the interest of the Republican party, and he pleased everyone who heard him. Those who came back to Hartford were out in their praise of his speech and all predicted that Centertown will make a good showing in the coming election by reason of it. It will not be the last time that Ohio county Republicans will want Mr. McGregor to come here to assist them in their campaigns. He won a place in the esteem of the leaders of the party here as an orator, equaled only by Senator Bradley.

Assaulted and Robbed.

W. H. Wilson, one of the most prominent farmers of the county, while en route to his home west of the city shortly after midnight Saturday night, was held up and robbed of his pocketbook containing a large sum of money and his watch and valuable papers. He was knocked to the ground by two men, one hit him with a club and then they went through his pockets. The hold-up occurred just outside of the city limits, on the street car crossing. It is supposed that the thugs were the two negroes who assaulted and robbed John Waller early Saturday night at his home on West Main street.

Mr. Wilson left his home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and as usual collected his rents in the city and probably had over $100 on his person. He reached his home about 1 o'clock this morning. He was considerably bruised by the men who assaulted and robbed him. [Owensboro Messenger.]

Sunday School News.

The Baptist church at Buizetown organized a school a few weeks ago and they mean to make it a success. Mr. Herman, Buizet, Central Grove, Smulhouse, Seunkle Chapel, Green River, Taylor Mines, Prentiss and Independence are some of the schools doing better than common. Others expect to organize or re-organize yet for a continuous work.

ANDERSON MADE MONEY OUT OF HIS CONTEST INSTEAD OF LOSING THEREBY.

Editor Republican:—I am rather adverse to appear in print during or concerning my candidacy for County Attorney. But I feel impelled to reply to a statement of my opponent, Mr. S. A. Anderson, in a write-up, which appeared in your columns last week.

Referring to the contest following his election as Circuit Clerk of Ohio county, he stated that the same cost him the greater part of the emolument of the office. The untoughtful might accept this as true, but to those who have given thorough consideration to the matter, it is the merest make-shift. Mr. Anderson having really made money out of the contest instead of losing thereby. It is a rule of law, with which practically everyone is familiar, that a party who wins in a lawsuit, recovers his cost off the other party. Mr. Anderson won in the suit about the office, recovered from Mr. Likens all the cost of the contest, and Mr. Likens paid it. I find on the record in the case written in Mr. Anderson's own hand the following receipt which clearly explodes Mr. Anderson's statement:

Ohio County Court
G. B. Likens, Complainant.
Vs.
S. A. Anderson, Contested.
G. B. Likens has this day paid to S. A. Anderson, the costs of the contest, including attorney's fees, and I have given him receipt for same.
S. A. ANDERSON, Clerk.

Rockport and Greenwell districts are to hold their conventions yet.

The following schools have paid to county and State work this year as follows:

Hartford Baptist $5.00, Sunkle Chapel $1.42, Marvins Chapel $2.25, McGrady $1.20, Fordsville Convention $2.50, Centertown Convention $1.00, Hartford Convention $2.00.

BUFORD.

Mr. Roscoe King and family, of Bells Run, moved to this place last week.

Mrs. I. V. Taylor returned home Saturday after several days visit to Mr. Pete Taylor and family at Reynolds Station.

Miss Dee Beech of Southerland is visiting Mr. I. V. Taylor and family this week.

Mr. Elvi Henry, of Maxwell, has bought Mr. George Kirks farm here and will move the first of the year.

Mr. Voss Dickens of near Whitesville, has bought Walter Rades farm.

Mrs. Dora Roach, and Mrs. Lillie Taylor visited Mr. Tom Greyer and family of Bodin, Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Ethel Mae Magan is visiting Miss Lottie Field of Owensboro, this week.

Misses, Homer Turner and Walter Blair went to Melhenry and Taylor Mines Monday on business.

Miss Minnie McIntyre of Hartford was in our town Monday.

Mr. Frank Chisholm of Hefflin, visited Mr. B. E. Graves and wife Monday.

A nice birthday dinner was given to Miss Sara King Thursday the 14th celebrating her 75 birthday with every thing good to eat which was enjoyed by every one present. Those present, about 40 in number, were Aunt Cloe Sharp, Sarah King, Fannie Holbrook, Mary Newton, Mr. Jess Hudson, of Bodin, Mr. Jim Patton and wife, Mr. R. L. Paris and wife, Mr. John King and wife, Mr. John Blair and wife, Mr. Jim Bales and wife, Mrs. Ruby, Mrs. Ben Taylor and son, Mrs. S. J. Hussey and daughter Miss Maud, Mrs. Mattie Turner, Mr. M. F. King, A. W. Nicholson and family, Mr. B. E. Graves and wife, Mr. Berde Blair, Miss Dora King, Mr. Charles Marker and sister Miss Lillian and Mr. Corley King. And Miss Anna of Buizet many years and made many friends. May I say to you joy may be big and your birthdays be the wish of the writer.

DR. G. W. GADDIE'S SPLENDID ADDRESS

Makes Strong Argument for Republican Principles.

Has Canvassed the Entire District And Believes His Chances Good.

Hon. D. W. Gaddie, of Louisa county, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, delivered a splendid speech at the court house Monday afternoon, to a fair sized audience. Owing to the fact that only one day intervened between Mr. Gaddie's appointment and that of Senator Bradley it was not as well attended as it otherwise would have been. Dr. Gaddie made a very favorable impression here and delivered a logical and forceful address touching upon all the issues of the present campaign. He showed the country had prospered under Republican rule and how it had gone to ruin when the Democrats were in power. He showed up the failures of Hyndman and pronounced the republic and a republic with the big drift by the Democratic party.

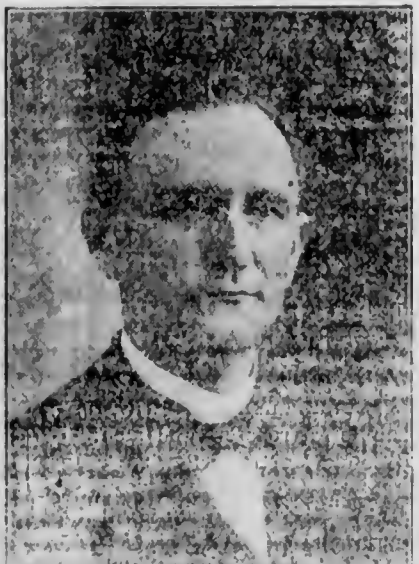

Having actually made money out of the contest and having secured the handsome sum of $14,000.00 out of the office, I am unable to determine what idea Republicans of Ohio county are under any obligation to Mr. Anderson. Respectfully,
C. E. SMITH.

DR. G. W. GADDIE'S SPLENDID ADDRESS

Makes Strong Argument for Republican Principles.

Has Canvassed the Entire District And Believes His Chances Good.

Hon. D. W. Gaddie, of Louisa county, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, delivered a splendid speech at the court house Monday afternoon, to a fair sized audience. Owing to the fact that only one day intervened between Mr. Gaddie's appointment and that of Senator Bradley it was not as well attended as it otherwise would have been. Dr. Gaddie made a very favorable impression here and delivered a logical and forceful address touching upon all the issues of the present campaign. He showed the country had prospered under Republican rule and how it had gone to ruin when the Democrats were in power. He showed up the failures of Hyndman and pronounced the republic and a republic with the big drift by the Democratic party.

DR. D. W. GADDIE.

In the present campaign, Dr. Gaddie paid a respectful regard to Congressman Ben Johnson, and in a gentle manner criticized him for not showing himself to the people of his district, meeting him upon the stump during the present campaign, to give an account of his stewardship. He said that it has been falsely circulated over the district, that he had criticized Mr. Johnson, because he was a Catholic in religion. He denounced this story as absolutely false, saying that he had never criticized the religion of anyone in his life and that Mr. Johnson had as much right to his religious opinion as he had himself, and that it would be just as wrong for him to criticize Mr. Johnson because of his religious belief as it was for Democrats speakers and newspapers to criticize Mr. Taft because of his church relations. Dr. Gaddie closed his address with an eloquent peroration, depicting his love for Kentucky and his home land. He spoke to a large audience at Magan, Monday night and at Fordsville, Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Gaddie has made a thorough canvass of the district and believes that he has a splendid chance to be elected in the Republican vote can be gotten to the polls and every Republican will do his duty next Tuesday. He is a man of fine appearance and undoubted ability. He was born on a farm in Taylor county, Kentucky in 1862 being one of nine children where he lived and worked until he was twenty years of age, at that age he went to Louisville and attended the Medical College of the University of Louisville from which he graduated. He moved to Hodgenville, Ky., and actively engaged in his profession, but he is never too busy to take an active interest in politics. He is a keen man in every particular and if he is elected, and we believe he will be, citizens of the Fourth Congressional District will have nothing to regret from him in the future.

SMALLHOUSE.

Oct. 28.—Mrs. Sallie Drake is spending this week at Mr. T. R. Barnard's at Hartford.

Mr. Roy Bennett and little Miss Ethel Barr spent Saturday night and Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bennett.

Rev. G. H. Lawrence and wife Beave Dam were in our midst Saturday evening but owing to the protracted meeting at Centertown he did not fill his appointment at Smallhouse.

Mr. J. H. Wood and wife, Cephalo, Mr. T. R. Igleheart Matanzas and Mr. John Boone and little son Paul of Beavels were at Smallhouse church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bennett, Beavels were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Colaway from Friday until Sunday.

Miss Kate Hawkins, Hartford was the guest of her aunt Mrs. Robert Hunter, Friday night, Saturday and Sunday night.

Mr. S. E. Hunter and Miss Kate Hawkins attended the Republican rally at Centertown Saturday evening and the protracted meeting at Centertown Saturday night and Sunday and Sunday night.

Mr. Jess Kelley and Mrs. Oona M. Kelley went to Hartford Sunday.

Mrs. Oona M. Kelley has been chosen to represent the Eastern Star Lodge at Centertown and will go to Centertown today to attend the grand lodge.

Little Amy Gabley and her baby brother are quite sick at this writing and also the little babe of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Cox.

Married in Texas.

Relatives of Miss Ethel Barker, of Valley Mills, Texas, have received the announcement of her marriage to Mr. E. W. Goodall, of our county Oct. 26th. Miss Barker is the daughter of Mr. W. C. Barker, who was born in Ohio county, but who went to Texas in his boyhood and has for years been one of the most prominent citizens of that county. Miss Barker visited recently at Hartford and visited a few years ago and a remembered for her lovely disposition with which she was credited to make friends of everyone. We make a very pleasant young man of spirit and character and gives promise of a bright future. The happy couple were married at Valley Mills, Texas, by Rev. J. O. Gentry, was the officiating minister.

Bennett-Pritchard.

Mrs. Mary Bennett, daughter of Rev. R. D. Bennett, of Hartford, and Mr. J. H. Pritchard, of Louisville, were married at the Methodist church here yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The ceremony being performed by the bride's father, Rev. R. D. Bennett, one of the most respected and accomplished young men of Hartford, who is a prominent young business man of Louisville. They left on the afternoon train for Louisville, where they will make their future home. A large audience filled the church, made up of the many relatives and friends of the bride who witnessed to see another of Hartford's popular belles taken from our midst, with the happy pair all the blessings which can be crowded into their lives. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly bridal presents.

SENATOR BRADLEY COMES TO TOWN

Last Wednesday and so Do All Sorts of Republicans.

About 3,000 Heard Him Pour Political Hot Shot Into Democracy.

One of the greatest Republican rallies which has ever been held in Ohio county, and that is saying a great deal, for we have had many notable ones, was held here on Wednesday of this week upon the occasion of Senator Bradley's visit. The boys came from every section of the county until the crowd numbered more than 3,000, not half of whom could obtain standing room in the Court house. Senator Bradley was met at Beaver Dam, by M. L. Heavrin and C. M. Barnett, at the 11:30 train, after a hasty luncheon was driven rapidly to Hartford, where to receive a great ovation from his admirers. He was introduced by Mr. Heavrin in a few well chosen words and began his address about 1:15 o'clock and for two hours he charmed the masses with his logic and wit and repurree. He traced the history of the Republican party as it had to do with legislation and the expansion growth and prosperity of the country for forty years, proving conclusively that a protective tariff, as administered by the various Republican administrations had brought about the only real prosperity which we have ever had. He exploded the theories of Bryan and his reference to the various remedies which this quack doctor had prescribed for the people, brought laughter and cheers from his audience. Senator Bradley took for his text: "Can the leopard change his spots?" and he named the spots which would not out as "free silver and imperialism government ownership of railroads" etc. The senator closed his speech with a beautiful tribute to the ladies, in which he showed how they were the first to suffer from hard times and were the last to surrender to the wolf at the door.

Most of the business houses of the town were tastefully decorated as well as many of the private dwellings along the streets leading to the courthouse. The Centertown brass band made splendid music for the occasion as did also the colored brass band of Melhenry, which came over with a large number of miners.

Senator Bradley was accompanied by Hon. R. W. Slack, of Owensboro, who made a splendid address in a large audience at Melhenry Wednesday night.

Mr. Lawson Reno, of Owensboro, came up with a large touring car to convey the senator to Owensboro, where he spoke yesterday. Senator Bradley and Mr. Reno were entertained over night by C. M. Barnett, at his home on Henderson.

It is believed that much good has been done for the party in the county by the great rally which shows that the party is enthusiastic and determined, and was in every great contrast in size and enthusiasm to the effort which was made by the Democrats upon the occasion of the speech of Hon. H. H. Smith.

COOL SPRINGS.

Oct. 20.—Hon. G. H. of Buizetville of his office at Buizetville and family.

Mr. James Rogers of Hartford spent Monday night at Buizetville and on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bates and children and Mr. J. C. Bates of Buizetville were the guests of Mr. M. T. Cox.

Mr. Sam Eagle and Mr. B. L. Wright of Buizetville were the guests of Mr. A. B. Wright of Buizetville and family.

Mr. George Philon and Mrs. Jesse Wilson were the guests of Mrs. Nellie Rogers Sunday.

Mr. Lee Colon and Mr. Ed Austin were pleasant callers at Mr. Joe Rogers Sunday.

Mr. Ross and Mrs. W. H. of Buizetville were the guests of Mr. T. C. De la Sunday.

We have a new supply of report blanks and would be glad to have the teachers call for them at once as some are behind with their reports. If you prefer we will mail them to you on receipt of stamp.

The Lowly Hen.

I'm for a hen, the lowly hen;
 She'll lay an egg to-day and to-morrow
 To-morrow she goes about her
 And she'll be as fat as a fiddle,
 Lays us another. Cluck cluck,
 Day after day, no glass pluck;
 Happy if I can, too.
 She'll lay an egg to-day and to-morrow
 O' sunny side, my golden brood.
 She'll lay an egg to-day and to-morrow

She knows no holidays at all—
 Nor Sundays, At the claxon call
 Or Mr. Rooster, with a lurch,
 She lunges down from her perch,
 And, once upon a fasting fast,
 She goes to hunt the early worm.
 She takes a worm, a piece of grit—
 A bug, and makes an egg of it.
 That will pass muster with a fowl,
 In scrutable lay, or unlaid.

And does her nest with one egg laid,
 And bounces and beneath the shade
 Of some tall tree? Not much! not she!
 She scorns the bits of fence and tree,
 And across sanded bluffs and sun
 She keeps to bug world on the run,
 And goes with her for the worst feed
 Barrenly and barren, lands noed
 And wither bill does garden and joke
 The stuff for nibbles and yokes.

Egg after egg, day after day,
 In unobtrusive, cheerful way.
 And, when her laying life is done,
 She goes not to the nest or sun,
 But with a rustled tail down flock,
 She lays her head upon the block,
 And the peace of resurrection
 Some head-banging-house's trust, shows her love

For humankind in death. Brave hen!
 Example for roosters and men!

EXPERIENCE OF ONE GIVING ADVICE.

Our Correspondent tells us of His Success As a
Sooth-Sayer.

Prodigality is common to mankind only in the matter of giving advice. Advice is the most common of all the vagaries of which men are the recipients without having earned it. An apparent interest in the welfare of our friends turns us into a veritable oracle for their superior wisdom by giving them advice. In no other matter of human intercourse is so much good intended and so much mischief accomplished as in that of giving advice; and in this because the art is so little understood. Long ago learned this giving advice was a fine art, and as the schools and written but little upon it. I turned to a study of the matter with the patience of a philosopher and with the enthusiasm of a new convert.

With a growing idyl for the imperfections and short-sightedness of men in general I had long dispensed my superior wisdom with an eye single to the welfare of the advised, but with results so disappointing that I was about to decree the total unworthiness of the human race when it occurred to me to put the matter to the test of philosophy and experience. And now out of experience and experiments I have evolved a solution of the perplexing problem of the perplexing problem of giving advice and shall recount a few of these for the enlightenment of students of this the finest of the fine arts.

Years ago I had a friend whose welfare I considered as my own. Our mutual attachment was a matter of comment among our acquaintances. In a burst of confidence he told me one night that he was going to marry a certain widow. Knowing the tenderness of a lover I advised him in a diplomatic way that the widow wasn't a fit person to become his wife; that her character was questionable. I wondered why he never asked me to his house. A few months later when his widow-wife ran away with a tie-breaker I expected him to come to me with an humble apology for not following my friendly advice but instead he publicly accused me of adding and abetting the elopement.

Another friend whose esteem and confidence I had never had reason to question during an intimacy of many years conceived the laudable aspiration to run for the nomination of our party for a county office, but before announcing his candidacy rode half way across the county to get my advice in the matter. He said he knew I was skilled in such matters and being his devoted friend would advise him freely, frankly and wisely. I felt immensely complimented. I had him put away his horse and lodge with me for the night so, as I told him we could go over the matter thoroughly. After supper we got down to business and congratulating myself on being able to save my friend the waste of much time, save money and a lot of humiliation by advising him not to run. I was realistic about it; told him it was late and the people were pledged etc, but thought if he would get out early the next time he would be a sure winner. He looked disappointed. I felt that way also. He suddenly remembered having a pressing business engagement at his home village early the next morning and no amount of persuading could induce him to remain over till morning. Of course he went on and made the race, was hopelessly beaten and charged me personally with his defeat and has been every since my enemy.

After unselfishly dispensing my wisdom to about five hundred other friends and making five hundred enemies I began making the foregoing investigations and as a result, I find out just what my friends want to do and advise them to do it, and however disastrously the enterprise panned out they are forever afterward my friends.

Some instances. A widow of some wealth had an only daughter. A human vulture whose oiled hair waxed mustache and smooth shaven face made him good to look upon persisted in suing for the widow's daughter. The neighbors, sharing my now discarded notions about philanthropic advice, untidily and persistently needed the widow not to allow her pure young daughter to associate with the vulture. I didn't volunteer to advise her but waited till she came to me. She came, came with tears and anxiety. She said, the neighbors were hounding her about the vulture (we didn't call him that then) and she wanted my advice. I knew the widow knew he had squandered a fortune on the vulture so I told her to let the neighbors be hanged and have her daughter to marry a legacy and trust to luck and providence for the vulture to quiet down after he married, as many would do. She said

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a precious safeguard against the ordeal of a premature birth, and the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state or condition of the female system.

Delicate Nervous Weak Women, who suffer from frequent headaches, back-ache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or disquieting sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, sea-sickness, specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, intorsion or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs, or weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure vegetable extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its makeup. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

One had been thinking all the time that it was best but she just wanted my advice.

One night the vulture was at home and next morning he was gone. The neighbors, with one accord, gathered into to say to the widow "I told you so." Again in tears the widow came to me and said it looked like I was the only friend she had in the world and wanted me to advise her what to do. I told her there was a law to make men keep their contracts marriage or other sorts, and advised her to find the party of the first part. The widow had the money and I had the time and the taste for travel and as her only friend, of course I was sent on the case. I never found the vulture but I saw much of my native land sacrificing her good will and, besides, I have a rich friend to help me in times of need.

Another case, that of a young man, a relative and a very close friend of mine, at an early age inherited several hundred dollars in cash and forthwith decided to go west. The rest of his relatives begged, pleaded, urged and threatened him. Wanted him to buy a farm and settle down. He came to me and said he knew his mind was made up so I advised him to go. Told him opportunities in the west were away ahead of those here, and being a young man it was just the thing for him to go out and grow up with the country. He stayed with me the night before starting and his parting words were that he always did talk more of me than any other of his kindreds. Several months afterwards a foot sore and seedy looking traveler knocked on my door one stormy night. It was my luckman. I made him a hearty welcome and gave him some cold hash. I told him his experience was worth more than he paid for it and I am still his favorite kinsman.

The moral stuffed out first what your friend is set on doing. Advise him to do it and what ever the results he is ever afterward ready to make any sacrifice to serve you.

A Cure for Hog Cholera.

Hog Cholera of Swine, Plague as it is sometimes called, is a highly contagious disorder.

When a hog shows any symptoms of this disease, he should be isolated at once and one pen fumigated in order to save the other hogs if possible.

Mix one part Sloan's Liniment with two parts ink and give every sick hog a tablespoonful of this mixture night and morning for three days. Sloan's Liniment is a powerful antiseptic kills the disease germs, soothes all inflammation and acts as a tonic to the animal.

A. J. McCarthy, of Idaville, Ind., says: "My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got Sloan's Liniment, which was recommended to me by a neighbor who was using it with success. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the Liniment, but I have not lost any since."

Mr. G. W. Ba'sbaugh, of Peru, Ind., writes: "I had four pigs that were coughing and were not doing well. I gave the some of Sloan's Liniment and they got better at once."

Sloan's book on Horses, Cattle, Hogs and Poultry sent free. Address Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass.

BELIEVES HIM LONG LOST BROTHER

Republican National Chairman
Hitchcock May Find
Relative

Spokane, Wash., October 17.—Willis Curtis Hitchcock is a native of Summit County, Ohio, where he was born 91 years ago who was located over the Pacific Northwest since 1852 in search of gold, finally being at Ward, Idaho. In the heart of the Coeur d'Alene east of Spokane, was just dispatched a long letter to Frank Hitchcock, Chairman of the Republican National Committee who he says is his youngest brother. This is the first intimation of his whereabouts he has given his family in 30 years.

Hitchcock is a pioneer of the Northwest. He came to the Coeur d'Alene in 1856, working as a prospector, several of which he located. He has discovered a dozen fortunes for others, but all he has to show for his life of toil in the mines is an interest in a producer and a small pension, which was granted several years ago. However, he is happy. His health is not as good as he thinks it should be "at his age," but he gets around so lively and wears the dignity of his long years so easily that strangers never suspect him of being in the thirties. He is as straight as a reed, his eyes are clear and strong his voice steady; all the faculties remain unimpaired.

Hitchcock lived in Ohio and the Middle West until 1852 when he started for the gold fields of California, and after making and losing several fortunes he returned to Ohio, where he married in 1856. His wife lived two years leaving an infant son, now living in St. Louis, whom he has not seen in four decades. After losing all he had in the panic of 1857, Hitchcock returned to the coast and has never been "back East" since.

The veteran miner was a member of Company B, First Oregon Infantry, finding it necessary to tell Uncle Sam's recruiting agents a small fiction in regard to his age to come within the prescribed limit. He is a self-wart Republican in politics and conducted the Republican club rooms in Portland for six years, when Ben Halliday called "the King of Oregon," ran a stage between Portland and Roseburg. Senator Mitchell was his personal friend and sought to reward his political services many times, but he said: "Even when he offered me a post in China, with a good salary attached, I turned it down; I never bothered for office."

"I have been digging into the past—the past that I had almost forgotten he said to the writer a few days ago. "and I am positive that Frank Hitchcock, Chairman of the Republican National Committee is my youngest brother. There were seven of us—Frank was the youngest son. His middle name was Harris. All that I know about him is that he is a graduate of Harvard and Columbia, and his inclinations ran toward politics. He would be about 41 of 42 years of age now."

"I have not had a letter from him or written to him in 30 years, until yesterday when I wrote a long letter to make certain of what I had positive is true—that he is my brother. I also wrote my son, and am looking forward to getting a reply."

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President,
HON. WILLIAM H. TAFT,
of Ohio.

For Vice President,
HON. JAMES S. SHERMAN, of New York.

For Member of Congress Fourth Dist.,
DR. DAVID W. GADDIE,
of La Rue County.

Vote for Taft.

Taft and Sherman is the ticket.

Taft has an eclipse on Col. Watson's rainbow.

You will find the log cabin first column on the ballot.

The latest definition of pernicious inactivity is not voting on election day.

Mr. Bryan's "buying-the-election" bugaboo a little earlier than usual.

A vote for Taft is a vote for a return of good times and business activity.

The "War clouds" of the future promise to be a flock of duds on the horizon.

Mr. Watson has carried the country for Bryan by one hundred thousand railroads.

The real test of political candidates as to which one is the "working man's friend" will come after election.

If everything that is put off until after the election goes through, this is going to be a good place to live in.

Mr. Archibald would do the country a favor by issuing a bulletin containing the names of the unbought statesmen.

Mrs. Howard Gould says her husband tried "to starve her" by cutting her allowance to "$50,000.00 a year. O what a brute!

Mr. Kern had an explanation ready when he lost his railroad pass, but what will he say when he loses the state of Indiana?

The Iowa farmer who has just sold his corn crop for $12,390.00, might be a good man to head a company for the advancement of conditions among city folks.

Tammany's enormous political power is shown by the fact that there are more voters registered in New York city for the coming election than in the whole state of Michigan.

An injunction has been secured against a Virginian to restrain him from removing bodies from a graveyard. It is not stated in what political party's interest he is working.

The people of the Southern states have for many years fondly imagined that they were the "lucky ones." Now they know, in Mr. Taft having carried his campaign four South of the Mason and Dixon line.

It has been a custom of Democratic organs and papers in conducting the election to assert that the protective tariff constituted by the Republican party offered no aid to the farmers. The Dingley tariff bill approved July 21st, 1897, imposes a duty of 60c per pound on butter, 50c per dozen on eggs, 25c per pound on wheat and potatoes, 15c on corn and 35c per pound on cotton. These duties are a protection to the farmer and should be Democratic stock-in-trade.

When a tariff is passed by Congress, it is not the duty of the executive to veto it. It is the duty of the executive to sign it. If he vetoes it, he is guilty of a crime. If he signs it, he is guilty of a crime. If he vetoes it, he is guilty of a crime. If he signs it, he is guilty of a crime.

The Hartford Herald never gets any thing at. This week it undertakes to criticize the editor of this paper for failing to attend a Republican speaking at the court house recently, saying that he was at the bowling alley instead. This is about as far in the direction of the truth as the Herald usually gets. The fact is that the editor of this paper was at a Kings of Pythias lodge meeting on the night Mr. Proctor spoke at the court house, and he had informed Mr. Barrage, the campaign chairman, of his inability to attend the speaking, when the hour was engaged on account of some special work with which he was engaged at the lodge. Since we come to think about it however, what sort of attitude does the Herald place itself in when it criticizes a Republican for not attending a Republican meeting?

Taft's Stand at Terre Haute.
Mr. Taft's speech at Terre Haute on Injunctions and Judges was the best, the soundest, the bravest, and the best he has made in a long campaign.

It was delivered as polished, but was a legal ballet, diffusing justice with every ray. It was the stand of a champion Judge expounding the best, regardless of clamor or opposition. No American citizen can read the speech without being a Republican, Democrat, Socialist or Independent, without admiration for his exposition of the equal rights of all classes before the law.

If Mr. Taft had made this same utterance in the same spirit two months ago Indiana would not have been so close as it would not need to be campaigned through.

Federal Judges as all other Judges must not be representatives of classes of men or of special interests. The scales of justice must be kept in even balance, and the people's right must be as secure as the scales of justice. The privileges of lawyers before the law must be no more sacred than the antagonism of military and civil courts relating to the rights of corporations under a public law.

No Presidential candidate should owe election to clique or bands of classes, to predatory interests of those who have money or power, or to desire to possess the power of others. The President of the United States should be elected by the people of the United States.

Second Term of Hartford College Opened Monday.

New students entered; Erwin Newbolt, of Davless county, and Courland Taylor of Select, and Miss Ethel Hatch of Centertown were among the new students who entered school on Monday. Several others are expected to enter next week. The number of non-resident students is much larger than was expected for this year and is increasing.

Last week's written examinations closed the first quarter's work. The results of the examinations are as a whole very satisfactory and show that good work is being done in every department. Report cards will be sent out within a few days, and the leaders of the various classes and grades will be announced in our next issue. Parents are again requested to carefully examine and sign cards.

The summary report of all teachers for the second month is as follows: average number of pupils attending, 225; total number of cases of influenza, 38; per cent of students absent, 10; per cent of students absent, 10; per cent of students absent, 10.

Prof. Gray will respond to all teachers to speak in various parts of the county on the New School Law. County High Schools and their influence on educational progress.

Tom Handley who has been sick of typhoid fever of his home near Adelburg, Ind., we are glad to announce recovered and will soon resume school.

Several students visited their respective homes in the county last Sunday and Monday. Among the number were Gilbert Bell and Elmer Mosley who visited at Pleasant Ridge.

MITCHELL REPUDIATES FALSE STATEMENTS.

Did not Issue Circular Endorsing Presidential Candidate.

(From Courier Journal Oct., 21.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America today turned out the following statement to the Associated Press.

During the past few days I have received numerous inquiries from secretaries of our local unions in reference to a poster containing an enlarged likeness of myself below which is printed what purports to be an interview with me bearing upon the present political situation. Some of these letters are written in a spirit of criticism while others are commendatory, and request that additional posters be mailed for distribution.

It is obvious that these posters have been received by many if not all, the secretaries of our local unions. It is apparent that as they were sent out by me, and the assumption is that I am attempting to deceive, or at least to influence the members in what our members should vote.

To those who know me best it should be unnecessary to say that I would not be so lacking in modesty as to mail to the local unions of the United Mine Workers of America pictures of myself even though I desired to convey to them an expression of my political opinions.

In order to remove any misunderstanding that may exist I take this means of informing our members that I have not mailed or authorized anyone else to mail to any member of our order, and possessing my likeness or giving expression to my political views, except so far as these views are expressed in the official circulars authorized by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor.

Only a short time ago a weekly paper published in the city of Buffalo printed what purported to be a telegram signed by me, declaring unequivocally for one of the presidential candidates and with equal emphasis voting opposition to another. Two telegrams—which have been given wide circulation—was not written by me or by my authority. I never saw it or heard of it until it appeared in the columns of the publication referred to.

I have borne patiently with this misrepresentation, and have hesitated to say anything by way of correction, because I feared that to do so would be to furnish another opportunity for garbling what I said, and thus place me in an even more embarrassing situation, and might thus convey the impression that I was not in full sympathy with the efforts of the working people to secure remedial legislation for the wrongs of which they complain. But matters have gone so far that I cannot, in justice to my own conscience, remain silent while others use my name in this unauthorized manner. I am abundantly able to speak for myself, and I object to these unwarranted liberties being taken with my name. Therefore I avail myself of this means of communicating to all who may be interested this explanation and expression of my views.

As I understand the policy of the American labor movement and the action of the United Mine Workers of America, it is that the organization of labor is not committed to any political party; that the workingmen of America are endeavoring, so far as is in their power and without regard to political affiliations, to elect to public office from both sides of the trade union or other candidates who are known to be in sympathy with the political and industrial reforms necessary to the protection and preservation of the interests of the wage earners.

To this end I have written letters of recommendation, and shall write others urging our fellow workers to support trade unions and friends of the trades union movement who have been nominated for official positions (Mr. Mitchell here mentioned several men whose candidacy for the lower house of Congress he favored, and continued as follows:)

It seems to me that inasmuch as the manufacturer, the mercantile, the professional and to a lesser extent, the agricultural endeavor the leisure classes are so well and so numerously represented in our State and national legislatures, the wage earners should also be represented by a group of strong men from the ranks of labor whose training and experience are such as to enable them to present in an intelligent and forceful manner the needs and requirements of that great division of society which is least able to protect itself. When all factors are thus represented we can expect such general legislation as is essential to the welfare of the whole Nation and such special laws as are necessary to protect the interests of each separate division.

I am sure that I shall not be charged

LETTERS FROM WOMEN About Pe-ru-na.

The following testimonials represent actual experience of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peruna. It means a great deal to the women of America to have at hand a remedy capable of giving such relief. Constipation, rheumatism, kidney trouble, bronchitis and a host of other catarrhal conditions are relieved by Peruna. At last this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

Peruna is making such friends every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peruna so justly famous Chronic Bronchitis.

Mrs. Clara L. Miller, Box 71, Columbia, Mo., writes: "I have used Peruna myself for many years with beneficial effects, and observing the good it has done others of my acquaintance, I cannot but say a good word in behalf of Peruna."

A Good Word for Pe-ru-na.
Mrs. S. L. Jewell, R. F. D. 1, Freeport, Pa., writes: "Having used Peruna myself for many years with beneficial effects, and observing the good it has done others of my acquaintance, I cannot but say a good word in behalf of Peruna."

Keeps Pe-ru-na in the House.
Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes: "My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we all have kept them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140."

Nervous, Tired and Weak.
Mrs. Christina Smukalla, 40 Winslow Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I trust every one suffering from systemic catarrh will read this and profit by it. I was in a very bad condition indeed, when I began to take Peruna, and my friends as well as myself were very much alarmed over my condition. I was always nervous, could not sleep at night, my food did me no good, and I was always tired and weak. I tried several doctors, but found no relief. Finally I took two bottles of Peruna and felt like a different woman. However, I did not stop there, but kept on with it until I had taken several bottles, when I felt completely cured, and have remained so ever since. I can eat and sleep now."

Constipation, Kidney Trouble.
Mrs. Mahala Reid, Corbyville, Ont., Canada, writes: "Your celebrated remedies have been a wonderful boon to me in my old age. I have not been in so good health for several years as now."

Pe-ru-na in Tablet Form.
For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

ed with partisanship when I advise each citizen to examine carefully the principles and policies of the candidates; to consider seriously the effect of the election upon the Nation as a whole and upon that division of society in particular to which he belongs; and having done this, it is his duty to cast his ballot in accordance with his best judgment and with the dictates of his conscience.

Over and above all, trade unionists should ever keep in mind the necessity of preserving inviolate the strength and integrity of the unions. When the election is over and the excitement and enthusiasm incident to it have passed away—regardless of which party has been victorious regardless of who is elected to the presidency—the organizations of labor, as heretofore and as never before, will be to the workingman the bulwark of their liberties."

Chick, Taylor Mines; Silas Simpson, Taylor Mines, were among those who paid their subscriptions to the Republican last Wednesday.

We were compelled to omit many valuable communications from last week's issue of The Republican and also from this issue on account of the overcrowded condition of job department, which was required almost all the time of our mechanical force, and because of the extra large amount of campaign matter, which we have been required to use. We assure our correspondents that this is a temporary affair, and that their communications are always appreciated.

Mr. Roy S. Crawford, of Friedland and Miss Ada McDaniel, of Olaton, were married at the residence of Mr. J. H. B. Carson, Hartford, last Saturday at 1 o'clock p. m., Rev. G. J. Bean performing the ceremony. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Crawford and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. McDaniel. These popular young people were accompanied to Hartford by Mr. J. L. Godsey and Miss Sallie Felix, of Olaton. The bridal party left for home immediately after the ceremony.

Mr. Emory Schroeder and Miss Pearl Thomas will be married at the bride's home on Clay street, next Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. E. P. Thomas and is one of Hartford's most popular young ladies. The groom-elect is Hartford's popular photographer and a most worthy young gentleman. The contracting parties will leave immediately after the ceremony for Rockport, Ky., where they will take the boat for a two weeks' bridal trip. The Republican extends congratulations in advance.

The Hartford Methodist Sunday School will have a rally day program next Sunday morning. Select music and short talks will be featured. All members of the Home Department are urged to attend as well as all other members of the school. Visitors from other schools are cordially invited.

Mr. William J. Taylor, Graham, and Miss Anna Brown, Rochester, were married at the residence of Mrs. H. H. Taylor, near Beaver Dam last Wednesday evening. Rev. Virgil Elgin officiating. Mr. Taylor is a representative of the W. G. Duncan coal company at Graham, and Miss Brown is one of the prettiest girls in the Southern part of the county is the daughter of Wallace Brown, a person well known in the community. They have a large number of friends and acquaintances who wish them a happy married life.

Hon. David H. Smith, of Hodgenville, spoke at the Democratic rally at Hartford, last Saturday. He had a crowd when comfortably filled the courthouse, and pleased his audience with his address. His arguments were the usual sort of Democratic charge against Republicans for all sorts of crimes, which he seemed unable to prove. Instead of using the usual arguments to induce the negroes to vote the Democratic ticket this year, Mr. Smith told them plainly that they were not wanted. That they were an ignorant low type of humanity, only fit for service to the whites in the same capacity as the former slave. This is not in keeping with the efforts of State Chairman Johnson, who has organized a club in his constituency and taken in the Bryan parade at Louisville, recently.

NOTICE.

Republican Primary Election
December, 5 1908.

At a regular meeting of the Republican Executive Committee of Ohio county Kentucky, held at the Court House in Hartford Ohio county Kentucky, on Saturday August 22, 1908, it was ordered by said committee that a primary election be held at the regular voting place in each of the various voting precincts of Ohio county, Kentucky, on Saturday December 5th, 1908, between the hours of six a. m. and four p. m., for the purpose of nominating Republican candidates to be voted for at the regular November election, 1909, for the following offices viz: Representative, Circuit Court Clerk, County Judge, County Court Clerk, County Attorney, Sheriff, County Superintendent of Common Schools, Jailer, Coroner, Surveyor, Assessor, and the candidate receiving the highest number of votes for the office for which he is a candidate, shall be declared the Republican nominee for said office to be voted for at the regular November election, 1909, and the party represented by said candidate or candidates is the Republican party, and shall be represented or designated on the official ballot by the device or emblem, a "Log Cabin."

All the legal electors who will be entitled to vote at the regular November election, 1909, in the voting precinct, in which he offers to vote in said primary, shall be entitled to vote in the Primary election of December 5th, 1908; provided however, that each of said electors answer in the affirmative, the following question, viz: "Will you vote for and support, at the regular November election, 1909, the candidates receiving the highest number of votes in this primary election and who shall be declared the nominees of the Republican party for the offices to be there named."

The officers of the election shall promulgate to each of the electors offering to vote in the said primary, the above question which must be answered "Yes," before the elector is permitted to vote.

The primary election called herein shall be held and conducted in the same form and manner, and under the same requirements as provided by law for the holding of regular State elections. If any candidate, officer of the election, Challenger, Inspector, or any other person shall directly or indirectly, violate any of the provisions of the election laws of this State in holding or conducting the primary election set out herein, then all persons thus offending shall be subject to all fines and penalties, in such cases made and provided by the laws of this State.

It is estimated that the cost of holding this primary, will be five hundred and eighty dollars ($580.00), and that the following amounts be assessed against each of said offices, viz: Representative $10.00, Circuit Court Clerk $110.00, County Court Clerk $110.00, County Judge $60.00, County Attorney $60.00, Sheriff $110.00, County Superintendent of Common Schools $60.00, Jailer $40.00, Assessor $20.00. SKILLED IN THE LAW

Success of Mr. Taft as Solicitor General.

WON MANY NOTABLE SUITS.

Victorious in the Celebrated Alaskan Seal Fisheries Controversy—His Defense of the McKinley Bill—Refused Golden Orders For a Seat on the Federal Bench.

Mr. Taft's eight years of history making utility upon the bench of the Sixth federal circuit, during most of which period he was presiding judge, were prefaced by three years of high accomplishment as solicitor general of the United States. President Harrison picked him to be the legal representative of the United States in active litigation in 1890, when he was only thirty-three years old and still had three years of his elective term upon the superior court bench in Ohio, to serve. Solicitor general of the United States at thirty-three! Scarcely more than a boy in years as ripened maturity is reckoned and already deluged deeds of national moment—deeds of international moment, to be exact, for inside of two weeks of taking the oath he had put up to him the defense of the government in the Alaska seal fisheries controversy, at which the courts and the diplomats of three countries—the United States, England and Canada—had been flinging for fourteen years.

Briefly the sum and substance of it was this: We had captured and condemned to be sold the Canadian schooner Sayward for illegal sealing in Alaska waters. England and Canada, supported the claim of the owner for damages, which we rejected. Pending arbitration the case was brought unexpectedly before the supreme court. It was clever tactics on the other fellow's part, and it put us in rather a pickle. While Canada would not be bound by an adverse decision if the case went against her—that is, she would not be compelled to accept the decision as final—should we lose the fact of our losing in our own court would count against us.

The new solicitor general called in. He read the documents. He clutched and held fast. When he emerged from the muck of international law, treaties, precedent and kindred clarities he had a 300 page brief ready to present to the court. It won for him and for the United States against two of the best lawyers in the land—Joseph H. Choate and Calderon Carlisle, Jr.

Then it fell to him to defend the McKinley bill in an action brought by an importing firm who objected to paying higher duties imposed by the bill and pleaded that Speaker Reed's way of counting a quorum, by which tactics the bill had passed the house of representatives, was unconstitutional. The importers urged that enough members present in the house, although constituting a numerical quorum, could break a quorum by not voting.

"If voting and not present is necessary to make a quorum, why is the speaker empowered to employ the sergeant at arms of the house to compel absentees to attend with the object of making a quorum?" queried Mr. Solicitor General Taft. The McKinley bill was saved.

The young solicitor general won, won, won and kept on winning for the government for the two years he was in office. Then President Harrison set him upon what Mr. Taft felt would be the track leading to his real ambition—the supreme court bench. He named him as circuit judge. Judge Taft accepted unhesitatingly. He did it in face of the well meant advice of friends who wanted him to be a money maker. Attractive partnerships were proposed to him by big law firms, partnerships that meant $40,000, $50,000 and $100,000 a year. The emoluments of the bench were only $8,000 annually. Judge Taft shook his head. "There are bigger and better things than money," was his reply to these allied suggestions. He was then thirty-five. He was a poor man, but he had enough. He is now fifty-one and a poor man still by the standard of the dollar.

Mr. Taft at Yale.

Mr. Taft was seventeen years old when he entered Yale and had just passed his majority when he was graduated with the class of '78. Numerically '78 was the largest class in the history of the institution, with one or two exceptions. Of its 185 members 129 graduated. There are now ninety-six of the graduate members living. "While Mr. Taft dominated the class physically," writes the class historian, "his, even at that time, was a dominating mentality as well."

Scholastic and social honors came to him unstintingly. He was a member of Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, Lambda Sigma, Sigma Chi and Phi Beta Kappa. In his freshman year he was president of the class boat club and a member of the Delta Kappa campaign committee and of the freshman class supper committee. With Roger Foster he tied for second place in the freshman scholarship, divided the first mathematical prize with John I. McDonald and won two first sophomore composition prizes. In the fall games, senior year, he pulled with the winning tug of war team. He prepared a philosophical oration at the Junior exposition and at commencement. He was the salutatorian and also the orator of his class.

"My Maryland" is not a Bryan campaign song this year.

"OLD BILL TAFT."

By REV. HY J. BOATMAN.

[Tune: "America."] For leader strong and great To lead the ship of state, To guide where breakers roar, To safely land our store, To quell all uproar, There's old Bill Taft.

To White House, there to stay And Bryan read away Upon a raft; To do, as Teddy did, What all our people bid, For man upon the tide, There's old Bill Taft.

To do what's good and just, Strike down the evil trust And all of graft; To keep our money pure And plenty, too, and sure, The hard times only cure, There's old Bill Taft.

Reform his flag unfurl, Against all evils hurst, Uproaring shaft, Then let our trumpets blare, "He's always on the square, At home and everywhere, Is old Bill Taft!"

[Official Circular.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7, 1908. To the Officers and Members United Mine Workers of America:

Greeting—We are in the midst of a political campaign. Every method known to political managers will be used to secure votes for their respective candidates. This is especially true in the attempt to obtain expressions from those holding official positions in labor unions.

I am in receipt of hundreds of letters from men of all shades of political beliefs and from all parts of the United States asking for my opinion of the different candidates or my views upon the issues involved in the political campaign.

The United Mine Workers did not elect me international president to influence your political preferences or how you should cast your vote on election day. You have elected me to direct the affairs of the United Mine Workers. The success of the United Mine Workers and the welfare of its members have and will receive my first and only consideration as long as I have the honor of representing you.

I am not responsible for interviews appearing in the newspapers, alleged to be from me, that I favor any particular candidate. I have declined to express or to give any statement politically for or against any candidate or issue, nor do I intend to do so. This letter will be my answer to all who ask me for any advice along political lines.

I have the honor to represent an organization of nearly 300,000 members of every known nationality and different political views. We have among our members Prohibitionists, Populists, Independents, Socialists, Democrats and Republicans. From what I know of our members you are fully competent to decide for yourselves how you will vote on election day.

All my time is required to look after the interests of the United Mine Workers. Those interested in the subject matter of this letter will please refrain from writing me in connection with politics if they hope to get an answer.

The United Mine Workers as an organization has been in existence for many years before this political campaign, and we all wish that it may live many years after the present campaign has passed into history and until every wrong of which the miner complains is honorably adjusted. Yours fraternally and for harmony,

T. L. LEWIS,

President U. M. W. of A.

The Esperanto Vote.

[From the New York Sun.]

Oh, why is it neglected so—The Esperanto vote? Both parties should awake and, lo, immediately take note And send some card to speakers out To tell those people that Oh, Esperanto, terrado skowi Tok mokku vezok zat.

Why are no pamphlets sent abroad, Teach new language sharp, Some presidential boom to loud And on some issue carp? Were all those highbrows made to see Hip toogle pling e too loot whee Zing ask, they'd vote all right.

The field is big and yet untillied, And there great crops will grow If seed is only wisely splied, As candidates should know, So haste, you literary men, Press agents for the great, Book noop owloo thikatu gen No hunkus ceto late.

His Unforgettable Speech.

[Los Angeles Examiner.] The Bryan speech which will be remembered longest consists of four words: "Workingmen are public beggars."

The Bryan Policies.

[Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle.] "Policies of folly and disaster" is what Governor Hughes calls Bryan's varied assortment of schemes.

In the time of political warfare prepare for peace and prosperity by deciding to vote the Republican ticket in November.

One great American puzzle is to find the relation between what Bryan says on Monday and what Bryan says on Saturday.

The unemployed asked for jobs, and Colonel Bryan handed them out a copy of his platform.

METHODIST CHURCH ORGANS UNITE.

Central Methodist And Methodist Advocate Under One Head.

A deal was effected here whereby the two official organs of the Methodist Church, South, of Kentucky and West Virginia, were consolidated and publication headquarters established in Frankfort, at the office of the Frankfort Printing Company, which henceforth will do the mechanical work for this religious journal.

For 42 years the Central Methodist, now published in Louisville, has been the official organ of the Kentucky and Louisville Methodist conferences embracing the entire State of Kentucky with a membership of 80,000. For about 15 years the Methodist Advocate has been the official organ of the conference embracing the entire State of West Virginia, with a membership of 25,000. For nearly two years the Rev. Walter Q. Vreeland and Graham Vreeland of Louisville, have been the owners and publishers of the Central Methodist, while John A. Grose, of Barboursville, W. Va., has been the owner and publisher of the Methodist Advocate.

The consolidated religious journal will change the name with this week's issue to the Central Methodist Advocate. The Rev. Walter Vreeland, re-elected president of the Central Methodist-Advocate Company. This journal is a 16-page weekly and beginning next week it will be printed at the plant of the Frankfort Printing Company, of which Hubert Vreeland is president. The paper has a very large circulation in Kentucky and West Virginia, and the removal means an expenditure of more than $10,000 a year in Frankfort for printing labor and other expenses necessary to the publication of a journal covering two States.

Dr. D. W. Hatson, editor-in-chief and its faculty, will remove news from Louisville in most news, as will the Rev. Walter Vreeland, Rev. Grose will be the associate editor, covering the West Virginia field.

Frankfort is in the Kentucky Conference, which is a half-way ground between the Louisville Conference and the Conference of West Virginia.

Prior to the establishment of the Central Methodist, 15 years ago, the Central Methodist had been for many years also the official organ of the Conference of West Virginia. So the Central is merely coming back into its own and Frankfort will become of the chief beneficiaries.

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. One dose gives relief. Try it! Sold under guarantee at all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Peculiar Instance of Petrification.

Milton, Ky., Oct. 14.—In compliance with the will of Perry A. Voler, a wealthy bachelor, who was well known in Louisville, the remains of his father and mother were this week removed from a family burying ground to the Mount cemetery here. William Voler was buried in a copper lined metallic casket forty-four years ago, and removed from its long resting place the body was found to be petrified. Hundreds of people viewed the remains for two days and many citizens who knew Mr. Voler in life, and attended the funeral says the face looks as natural as the day of burial. The suit collar and necktie were white and in perfect condition, and the beard on the face and hair on the head were natural. The remains were hauled fifteen miles and part of the road very rough and it was not affected by the lars.

Can't Miss It

So many ailments are purely nervous affections, that you can hardly miss it if you try Dr. Miles' Nervine. It restores nervous energy—and through its invigorating influence upon the nervous system, the organs are strengthened. The heart action is better; digestion improved, the sluggish condition overcome, and healthy activity re-established.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine is worth its weight in gold to me. I did not know what ailed me. I had a good physician but got no relief. I could not eat, sleep, work, sit or stand. I was nearly crazy. One day I picked up a paper and an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Nervine. I concluded to try it and let the doctor go, and I did so. After taking two bottles I could dress myself. Then I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and now I can work and go out, and have told many the benefit I have received from these remedies and several of them have been cured by it since. I am fifty-nine years old and pretty good yet."

ANNA R. PALMER, Lewistown, Pa.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

TAFT IN THE ISLANDS

Why McKinley Sent the Judge to the Philippines.

STRONG, HONEST AND TACTFUL

Relinquished Certainty of Elevation to Supreme Bench at Call of Duty. Proved His Ability as a Nation Builder—A Real Altruist.

In the beginning of our occupation of the Philippines the problem there were military. Nothing of civil functions could be essayed until the rebellion had been put down. In the midst of this the first Philippine commission was sent out to look over the situation "as bearers of the blessings of a liberating rather than a conquering nation," as President McKinley wrote. The commissioners decided that it was a bad mess.

Mr. McKinley was advised to try to do nothing by civil power, but to give a military governor full sway. This would have been a fatal error. Any continuance of the military government beyond the time when its stern restrictions were required to induce peace and maintain it would still further have jeopardized the trust of the natives in our good faith. And it had already been so strained that it would stand no more tension.

The people at home, too, were growing thoroughly out of conceit with "the little brown brother." Our appetite had become sated of military conquest. Too many long, narrow boxes were shipped over sea and land for interment in village churchyards, too many mothers mourned sons, done to death by bullets or bolo, to support general conviction in the doctrine of expansion. We thought we had no prototype of Cromer, no glants of colonial administration upon whom Mr. McKinley might call to "lay the foundations of a superior civilization, with specific reference to the needs of the people to be governed and with definite reference to the welfare of the islands, both material and moral," as he had put it.

There was dearth of men wholly in harmony with the president's conviction of what our national duty to the Philippines comprised, who would constantly bear in mind that it was liberty they wanted, liberty that they should have, as Mr. McKinley had promised, pledging our faith as a nation—liberty, as he wrote, "of the whole Filipino people and not of a decimal fraction of them, who through the leadership of education and property have acquired a domination over the great mass."

Mr. Taft had not been thought of. If his sentiments on the Philippine question was known it was patent that he was neither a believer in Mr. McKinley's policy nor in our ethical right to be in the islands. Said the president one day to the then secretary of state, William B. Dyer, "I want a man who is strong, honest and tactful, a man of education and executive ability, a man who is fearless, but conservative, who will get along with the army people."

"Judge Taft fills the bill if he will take the job," said Mr. Dyer in a stroke of inspirational genius. They sent for Judge Taft, who was then on the supreme court bench, and told him what was wanted. He shook his head.

"I cannot be of use to you there, Mr. President," he answered. "I didn't want to take the Philippines. It was a mistake." The president regarded him musingly for a moment, then, "Nor did I want to take them," said he. "I had to. There was nothing else to do. We must build a new nation out there. I want you to help us."

Secretary of War Root added his persuasions. He showed both sides of the medal to Judge Taft. Perhaps he was motivated more shrewdly than he affected, for he descended upon the difficulties of the task compared with the congenial and relatively easy work that Judge Taft had upon the bench, with the almost ultimate certainty of being elevated to the supreme court. He must forego all this, said Mr. Root.

But what a chance offered in the Philippines to do, to create, to disprove the infallibility of some of England's pet theories of colonization, to bring into being a nation. Such arguments turned the tide. Judge Taft accepted one of those duties "which," to quote him, "is an entirety and not fulfilled until it is entirely fulfilled."

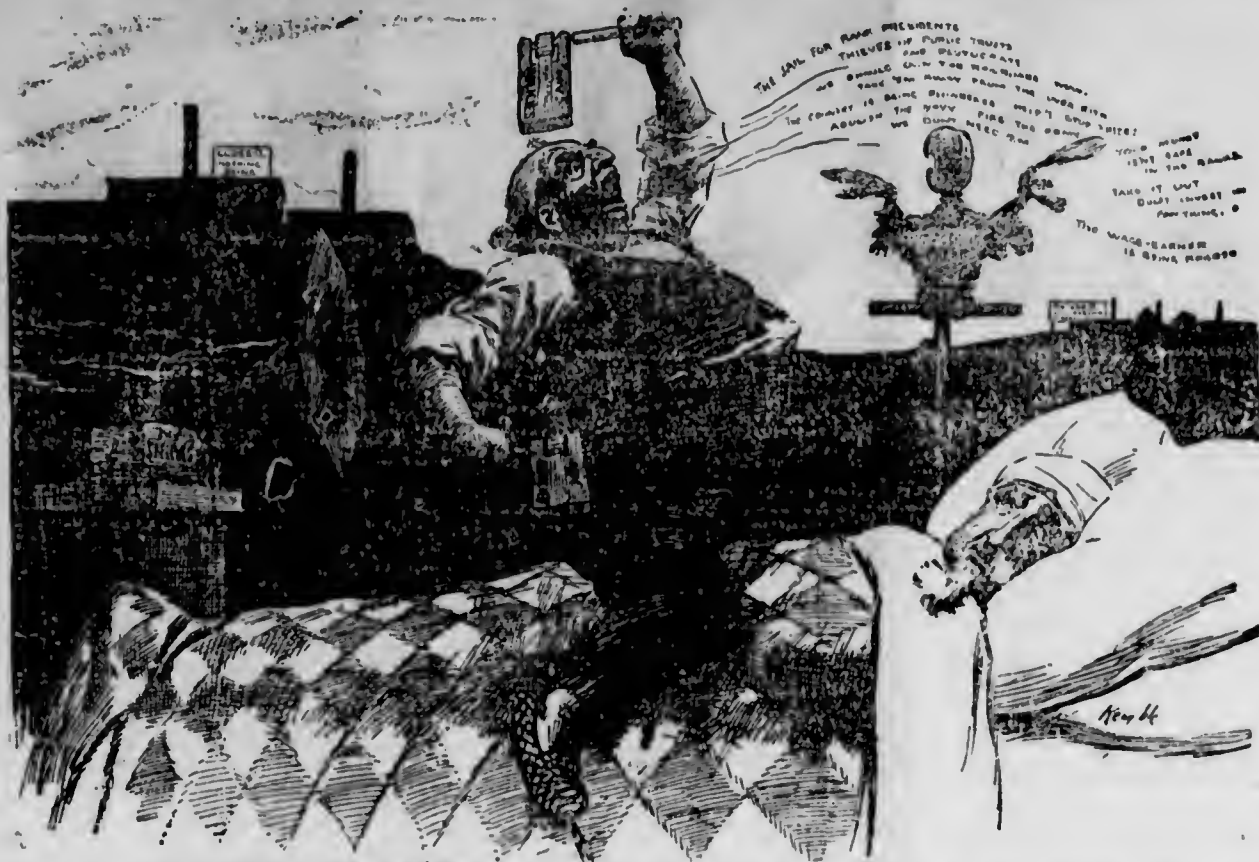

As he took ship, and always afterward, there was in his mind the concluding paragraph of the instructions given him by the president:

"A high and sacred obligation rests upon the government of the United States to give protection for property and life, civil and religious freedom and wise, firm and unselfish guidance in the paths of peace and prosperity to all the peoples of the Philippine Islands. I charge this commission to labor for the full performance of this obligation, which concerns the honor and conscience of their country. In the firm hope that through their labors all the people in the Philippines may come to look back with gratitude to the day when God gave victory to the American arms at Manila and set their land under the sovereignty and the protection of the people of the United States."

Altruistic, perhaps, but Mr. Taft is an altruist. It needed an altruist to compass the requirements specified in the quotation to the letter and pave the way for the fulfillment of Mr. McKinley's "firm hope," as Mr. Taft has done.

The Republicans will revise the tariff, and they will revise it so that no American workman shall suffer loss of wages or pay more to fill his dinner pail.

What Four Years of Bryan Would Mean.

Uncle Sam—If somebody would only chloroform him and let me have a much needed rest!—Hart's Weekly.

"BILLY BRYAN."

By REV. HY J. BOATMAN.

[No tune.]
Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Still a-tryin', still a-tryin',
Vat, vat, vat!
Thine before us like a chorus,
Jackass comes most uproarious,
Tried to floor us.
Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Far too high your knee's a-flyin'—
Wind's a-flyin'!
Cease to mouth us, cease to mouth us,
Jackass comes most uproarious,
Only cease us.
Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Vat, vat, vat, like one dyin'—
Vat, vat, vat!
Once you'd give us halves for whole
Silver dollars, them sixteen uns,
For our gold uns.
Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Give up tryin', quit your tryin',
Call your 'ery' in.
Once you'd hatched the ass and monkey,
Now you'd ride that poor old donkey—
Played out donkey.
Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Forces routed, forces flyin',
Still you're tryin'!
Still you're pladin' like a lover,
Off rejected for another,
Better brother.
Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
You're a good un; you're a lion
(Little chival un),
But your roarin' sounds too chaffy—
Deaf it's deafy. Give us Taft-y!
Give us Taft-y!

Campaigning in 1908.

[From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.]
The train comes whizzing down the track
And halts amid the cheers
And on the platform at the back
The candidate appears.
And then the engine hoarsely shrieks
His words are far from plain.
And then the engine hoarsely shrieks
And drags away the train.

TRIBUTE TO MR. TAFT

How China Apologized For the American Boycott.

JUDGE SIGNALLY HONORED.

Recognition of His Efforts to Bring About Remission of Boxer Indemnity. National Friendship Reaffirmed and Commercial Amity Restored.

It was through Mr. Taft, when he was in Shanghai last fall, that the Chinese apologized for the American boycott that was instituted in the kingdom a few years ago and expressed their appreciation of the remission by our government of the indemnity granted because of the Boxer rebellion. When it became known that Mr. Taft was coming to Shanghai representatives of all the Chinese guilds in the city met and arranged to give him a suitable reception. The guilds in China control every branch of commercial activity and united form in every city and community a thoroughly representative body. Each of the scores of guilds in Shanghai took part in the demonstration to Mr. Taft. For the purpose the beautiful Yuyuan gardens in Puhling Well road were obtained. Governmental cognizance of the greeting to Mr. Taft was through the vicarious participation of Tunn Pang, viceroy of the Jiangling province, in which Shanghai is. The viceroy ordered his representative, the total tong, to spare no expense in arranging a suitable reception for Mr. Taft and to present the bills to him. Americans long resident in Shanghai agreed that no such signal honors had ever been paid to another foreigner by the Chinese. A heavy rainfall, which began the previous night, threatened to mar or wholly prevent the garden party. At great cost and an expenditure of labor the committee completely roofed over with canvas a good share of the gardens, including long walls and paths, so that Mr. Taft and the other guests were enabled to move about freely, fully protected from the storm.

All of the speakers referred to the obligations under which China had been laid by the remission of the Boxer indemnity and the contributions made by Americans for the relief of victims of the recent famine in China. Mr. Taft was cheered and applauded for several minutes when he said:

"When I was here a little more than two years ago there was just a little bit of mist, a little bit of fog, in the clear sunshine of our friendship. But we gave assurances at that time which I am glad to say have been carried out on the one hand, and on the other there is every evidence that the mist has cleared away. The boycott is a thing of the past. It is a closed episode."

Two young Chinese ladies here for a massive silver bowl and presented it to Mr. Taft as a memento of his visit. The bowl, which was a rare specimen of Chinese silver work, was inscribed, "Presented to the Honorable William H. Taft, Secretary of War of the United States of America, as a Memento of the Garden Party Given in His Honor by the Chinese Residents of Shanghai."

Copious comments were printed by the eastern press upon the reception by the Chinese to Mr. Taft and its significance as a tribute to the man and as a renewal of the old time bonds of amity between the nations.

LABOR MOVEMENT IS NONPARTISAN.

Daniel J. Keefe, Sixth Vice President of the A. F. of L., Insists That President Gompers Has Been Misrepresented and Denies That Any Attempt Has Been Made to Swing Labor Vote to Bryan.

TAFT A FRIEND OF LABORING MAN.

"We insist that the labor movement shall remain as free and independent from political domination as it has ever been in its history."

That sentence is the keynote to a statement made by Daniel J. Keefe of Detroit, Mich., president of the International Longshoremen, Marine and Transport Workers' association and sixth vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

In his statement, which he made in answer to a query from the editor of the Buffalo Republic, Mr. Keefe says:

"I desire to say that the American Federation of Labor is not candidate to any political party, nor has any candidate for president been endorsed by the executive council.

"I am of the belief that the general public does not fully understand the position of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor in the present campaign. The policy of the labor movement is nonpartisan and is as follows:

"We desire to refute here the aspersions that have been cast upon the executive council and particularly one of its members, President Gompers, that it is our purpose or his to dictate to the working people of our country how they shall cast their votes in the coming elections, nor has any one promised the vote of the working people to any particular party. We have strongly, clearly and emphatically, as it was our duty, presented the situation in which the working people of the country find themselves, the demands which labor has made upon both political parties as to necessary action, which they should take, the treatment they have received, and have appealed to the judgment and patriotism of the working people and the friends of labor throughout the country, since both political parties have spoken, to make their choice as their conscience may dictate.

"The misrepresentation of newspapers and others to the contrary notwithstanding, we repeat and insist, and we have so conducted and propose to so conduct our course, that the labor movement shall remain as free and independent from political domination as it has ever been in its history.

"The foregoing does not commit the American Federation of Labor to any political party and is nonpartisan, which permits union men to vote for whom they may please for president and other offices without fear of criticism. All of which I heartily endorse.

"Some of the members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor no doubt will support and vote for Mr. Bryan, which is their individual right. I shall support and vote for Mr. Taft, who was admitted to membership in the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel and Dredge Men on account of his strong advocacy of the enforcement of the eight hour law on all government work coming under the jurisdiction of the war department, and if the eight hour day did not become an established fact in connection with dredge work it was the fault of the workmen and not the fault of the secretary of war.

"I might add further that Mr. Taft, as secretary of war, has done more to enforce laws in favor of organized labor than all his predecessors."

$5.00 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80

The regular retail price of these tires is $5.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.53).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES Nails, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $5.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.53 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUT expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above, or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle unless you are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

NOBODY

Has Ever Reached The Top

Men have achieved greatness and distinction in every line of endeavor, but no man has set the peg so high but what some fellow comes along and moves it up a little. So it is in our MERCHANDISING. We are not satisfied with what we have done for our customers. We aim each succeeding season to do more and do it better than the previous season. We are not satisfied to trail along with the rank and file of the mercantile procession.

WE LEAD, and we do it by our untiring efforts in securing for our trade the best possible Merchandise for the price it costs the world produces, by conducting our business strictly on honest principles and selling our merchandise at one price to everybody. We say most emphatically that this season's collection of fall and winter wearables surpasses any former efforts and when you see the assortment and quality and hear the price, you will have no hesitancy in supplying your wants at this store. If you know of an individual who doubts these statements bring him in and watch us convince him.

We Only Ask You To Come And Look.
